Correspondent

Brandon and Otter Tail County received some pretty exciting news. On Friday, February 5, from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday, February 6, from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., national TV personalities will hold their broadcasts on the west end of Frazee.

They came here as part of their “Eye on Minnesota” series, which features well-known radio personalities from across the state each winter.

On Friday, February 5, Chris ‘Hamski’ Maeck, a meteorologist, broadcast Thursday, February 5, from The Alibi near Frazee. He also covered the recently unveiled Caravelle in downtown Frazee. Many winter activities are still happening themselves in the background. On Saturday, February 6, The Alibi will be the home base for the broadcasts.

On February 5, after the show, the “Eye on Minnesota” crew will make a stop at the old Ottertail Hotel. It is a basement, a main floor, and a mezzanine restaurant on the west side of Frazee.

Chris Shaffer, left, weather meteorologist for WCCO TV and Frank Vasquez, news anchor, hosted their newscast from the old Ottertail Hotel with skaters in the background.
